Several weeks ago the ten-year-old daughter of Hugh Schram, living east of Yale, turned her ankle while on her way from school but not much was thought of it until about a week ago when she began to complain that it pained her badly and it was soon found necessary to have an operation performed and some bones were removed from her ankle. The child is getting along as well as possible but will be a cripple for life.

The north wind doth blow
And we shall have snow,
And our toes grow numb and number,
We wish with a sigh
The blizzards would try
To visit us in the summer.

At a meeting of the Brockway Centre District Agricultural Association, it was voted to change the name to the Yale Agricultural Association and to hold the next fair on September 21, 25 and 26. The society is in good financial standing and it is hoped the next fair meeting will be a success.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy, I can recommend to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough with the best results." 25 and 30 cent bottles for sale by Wm. Lennon.

It is a little late to mention the marriage of Dave E. Bowman which occurred on January 2nd, but as the old saying goes, "It's better late than never" and we were like the rest of Dave's friends, not in the secret. However, at the home of the bride in Ruby the ceremony was performed and the bonny bride's name is, or was Miss Anna Conger, Rev. Jennings conducted the services. We join with the many friends in wishing them a long and prosperous voyage on the sea of matrimony.

A stranger in our town met with a bad accident on Wednesday. His name is J. C. Thompson and he hails from Kalkaska. It seems that while drunk he had been in Pratt's hardware store and got a hair cut and shave and in making his exit he slipped and fell, his left arm crashing through the pane of glass in the window, while his right hand broke the glass in the door. The left wrist was horribly mutilated, the flesh being laid open and the cords cut in a terrible manner by the glass. Dr. High was called and dressed the wounds and the man was taken to the Commercial House.

George Williams, of Port Sanilac, will be the conductor on the Carsonville and Sanilac Centre air line for four years from July next, he being the lowest bidder of a number of applicants for conveying the mail over that route. Ed Young who has so long and faithfully looked after the safe transfer of passengers and mails between Carsonville and here, secured the contract for the mail route between Carsonville and Lexington and will move to the latter place next summer. For four years past Mr. Williams has performed a very satisfactory service between Carsonville and Port Sanilac.

A newspaper man is, in some instances, like other people. He respects his friends, appreciates a kindness and is always ready to return a favor, says an exchange. In another respect he is like his fellow men. He will continue to put a man on the back and tell what a good man he is, and how much good he has done for the people, and give him a free puff every day, when the man will not, through prejudice or otherwise, reciprocate in a business way. I other words, he stands by the man who stands by him. That is about the way of the world, and newspaper men can't be expected to do so much different from other people.

Women make good jurors and to them we wish briefly to sum up the evidence proving superiority of Magic Dyes, to wit: They color anything and everything and are easy to use. Give rich, fast colors, which do not crack or fade like most other brands. The packages are larger than other 10 cent dyes and color nearly double the goods. Other brands require a separate package for cotton, while nearly all Magic colors will dye cotton, wool, silk etc., with same package, making them far superior for coloring mixed goods. Furthermore, try them, follow the simple directions and your verdict after trial will be for Magic Dyes. Sold by Grant Holden, Yale.

The Municipal Snow-Plow at Work on our Streets.

Short Interviews With Prominent Citizens.

The city fathers have built or caused to be built a snow plow, which made its appearance on our streets this week. This is what Yale has long needed and will be appreciated by all who travel our thoroughfares, as many of our citizens are somewhat lax in cleaning the snow off their walks. The afore-said plow is not altogether a success but is being improved upon from time to time as the defects become known and we expect to soon have a complete rig in good working order. Below we give a few short interviews of some of our prominent citizens in regard to the matter, also a short poem which was left in our item box.

Peter Bush: "I think the Council have an elephant on their hands."

E. F. Fend: "It's as big a success as B. R. Noble's oil heater."

Roger Welch: "From what I've seen I think it could be kept straight in a ditch if the ditch was deep enough."

Dr. Benj. Clyne: "The machine is all right to plow a path in the center of the street, but the only way to keep it on the sidewalk is to nail it there."

A. W. Ferguson: "The only time I saw it was when it tried to slice a piece off the platform in front of my store. It's possible the rudder was out of gear at the time."

Lara Butler: "Oh! she's working since we've chained her up."

Postmaster Lutz: "My views coincide exactly with those of Peter Bush. Whatever Peter says goes."

F. A. Griswold: "She's all O. K., and will use my influence to have the F. & P. M. people adopt the style."

W. H. Palmer: "It's the entering wedge of a great invention."

Representative Parkinson: "I will present a bill to the house asking that all village snow-plows be made uniform in the state and will recommend the Yale plow as my choice."

C. Washington Jackson: "In following up the track of the plow I landed in about four feet of snow. I was sober too."

Jas. Wallace: "It would make a nice decoration for a fence corner."

R. M. Lothian: "Say! Don't say anything about the snow-plow (?) in the paper."

Ex-President McColl: "It's a humbug."

President Waring: "It's a snow-plow."

Dr. Wight: "Judging from the number of mechanics working on it, it ought to be a success."

Dave Brown: "The track made by the machine resembles that of a patriotic citizen on the 4th of July."

Dan Ferguson: "The council must pay me for obstructing the walk in front of my residence."

B. R. Noble: "The idea of getting the snow plow to work two days after the snow fell. Monday morning about six o'clock would have been the time. Nice thing to have a snow-plow on hand."

Wm. McMartin: "I could make a better snow-plow myself, and I'm no mechanic either."

THAT'S NO PLOW.

The municipal snow-plow, drawn by a horse, made its appearance last night. It is quite a swab, long crooked and twisted. While the town looks as though she'd been recently visited by a mammoth sea serpent—whose trail don't appear back and forth, cross the walks, in the ditch and the road.

Of all the large snow banks lay and white. She's a daisy. The pet of our dear city dads. Built on the lines of a corn cultivator. But like the writer of this, it's calling "no go." One can't push the pen, 'tother can't shovel snow.

A Cheap Home in Yale.
I will sell at a low figure and on easy terms, the house and lot known as the Kyes place on Kennecott street, or the two story cottage, with barn, known as the Holmes property. Will also sell a fine building site of an acre or more on Mary street. 37- Harvey Tappan.
